

- Home
- Magazine
- Hot Topic
- Special Reports
- Roundtables
- Categories

- About
- Advertise
- Terms of Use
- Privacy Policy
- Contact Us
- Videos
- Help

- -
- -
- -

- Subscribe to our newsletter

- Knowledge
-
- Insights
-
- Connections

We are an active manager

AMPCAPITAL

Login

-

“Financial planning clients have a clear understanding of their entitlements and their obligations; they are not disengaged,” says Santucci.

Search »

SEARCH

ASIC powers questioned by Law Council

Andrew Starke

Editor

- Andrew Starke's RSS Feed
- 17 January, 2012
- 0

"Best interest is another sticking point for the legal committee."

The 2002 science fiction film Minority Report examines a futuristic society where criminals can be caught before the crimes they commit occur, a grey area in to which some believe the financial services regulator is heading.

In a late December submission to the Parliamentary Joint Committee on Corporations and Financial Services, the Law Council of Australia registered its concerns over the scope of new powers given to the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC).

The legal committee, which represents 56,000 lawyers across Australia, believes that the government's Future of Financial Advice (FoFA) reform, if passed in its present form, could have unintended and potentially negative consequences on superannuation funds and their members.

In particular, the body has concerns about the breadth of ASIC's discretion to refuse to grant an Australian financial service licence, to cancel a licence and to make a banning order.

The proposed Bill currently allows ASIC to make a banning order where it has reason to believe that the applicant or licensee is "likely to contravene" their obligations as a licensee.

It is this clause and the notion of a 'PreCrime' that leads the reform into murky legal waters.

"The Committee is concerned by the breadth of the discretion these powers give to ASIC," states the Law Council submission. "There is no standard of proof which must be satisfied by ASIC and no prescription of the matters which go to whether a person is 'likely to contravene' their obligations.

"Given the consequences that can flow from an exercise of ASIC's powers under new sections 913B(1)(b), 915C(1)(aa), 920A(1)(f) and 920A(1)(h), including the closure of a licensee's business, the Committee submits that what is required in order for ASIC to form the view that a licensee is 'likely to contravene' their obligations should be subject to greater certainty."

Best interest is another sticking point for the legal committee, with the group concerned that the proposed statutory best interests duty in section 961B(1) do not accord with the general law duty of a fiduciary to act in the best interests of their client.

“The general law says that a duty to act in another person’s best interests requires a person to act for a proper purpose (to further the other person’s interests), to act without a conflict of interest or duties except with consent and not to make an unauthorised profit,” it states.

“The best interests duty at general law is therefore concerned with the provider’s motives. In very stark contrast, section 961B(2) sets out the steps the provider should take in providing advice.”

In the Committee’s opinion, the law could go a long way to achieving these aims if the steps in section 961B(2) omitted paragraph (g), that is the obligation to take “any other step that would reasonably be regarded as being in the best interests of the client”.

0

We thought you might also be interested in these stories >

IFAs go back to the future

Regulator suspends licence after breach

ASIC gets tough on hybrid securities

Comments: 0

Leave your comment

- Related
- Most Read
- Twitter Feed
- I uploaded a @ YouTube video <http://t.co/JrlgQ2wG> Tom Reddacliff.mp4 42 days ago
- I uploaded a @ YouTube video <http://t.co/Jh8o6sra> Paul Harding Davis.mp4 42 days ago
- I uploaded a @ YouTube video <http://t.co/moIit0tc> Dante De Gori.mp4 42 days ago
- I uploaded a @ YouTube video <http://t.co/bQdKkSx8> Tim Tez.mp4 42 days ago

Upcoming Events

- 1SPAA SMSF National Conference 2012
- 2FPA National Conference
- Filter:
- Practice Management

The art and science of running a profitable and efficient financial planning practice.

- CPD

Keep your professional knowledge up to date with articles from recognised experts.

- Professionalism

What it really means – and what it takes – to be a true professional.

- Regulation

Stay abreast of the most recent changes to regulation and the law and how the changes affect your business.

- Technical

Product and sector issues interpreted, analysed and explained.

- SMSF

Everything you need to know about providing advice and guidance to the trustees of self-managed super funds.

-
-

2012
SPAA SMSF
National Conference
15 - 17 February
Sydney Convention
& Exhibition Centre

Grow with SMSFs

We've found a way to manage it.

AMPCAPITAL

The image is a promotional poster for the 2012 SPAA SMSF National Conference. The top half has an orange background with a white tree graphic. The bottom half has a light blue background with the text 'We've found a way to manage it.' and the AMP Capital logo.

in Government and Regulation

Boutiques dismiss 'opt in' as costly, unnecessary

- by Andrew Starke
- published on 19/01/2012
- 0

Mandatory 'opt-in' legislation is an ineffective and costly solution to a non-existent problem and will do nothing to improve either the quality of ... [\[more\]](#) in Client Relationships

Gloom but not all doom for Aussie investors

- by Andrew Starke
- published on 19/01/2012
- 0

Plunging consumer confidence is challenging financial planners with research finding that investors are now less confident about investment markets than they were during ... [\[more\]](#)

in Government and Regulation

AFA attacks 'poor practice' in FoFA reforms

- by Andrew Starke
- published on 17/01/2012
- 6

In its most recent submission to the parliamentary joint committee (PJC) tasked with making recommendations on Future of Financial Advice (FoFA) reform, the ... [\[more\]](#)

in Government and Regulation

ASIC powers questioned by Law Council

- by Andrew Starke
- published on 17/01/2012
- 0

In a late December submission to the Parliamentary Joint Committee on Corporations and Financial Services, the Law Council of Australia registered its concerns ... [\[more\]](#)

in Government and Regulation

Banks warn of unintended consequences

- by Andrew Starke
- published on 17/01/2012
- 0

The Australian Bankers' Association (ABA) has weighed in on the government's proposed financial services reform, warning that the proposed legislative package could stifle ... [\[more\]](#) in Succession Planning

Valuations stable as vendors brace for FoFA

- by Andrew Starke
- published on 12/01/2012
- 2

Financial planning businesses are defying the doomsayers by retaining their value in the face of the Future of Financial Advice reforms (FoFA), which ... [\[more\]](#)

Load More

-

Connect

- Email Professional Planner
- Professional Planner on Twitter
- Professional Planner's RSS Feed
- Connect with Professional Planner on youtube
-
-

About | Conexus Financial Publications | Conexus Financial Events | Contact Us

-

Professional Planner is a Conexus Financial Pty Ltd. publication. All other trademarks appearing on this website are the trademarks and service marks of their respective owners.

Expand

next previous

Close

Previous

0/0

Next

